PROBLEM

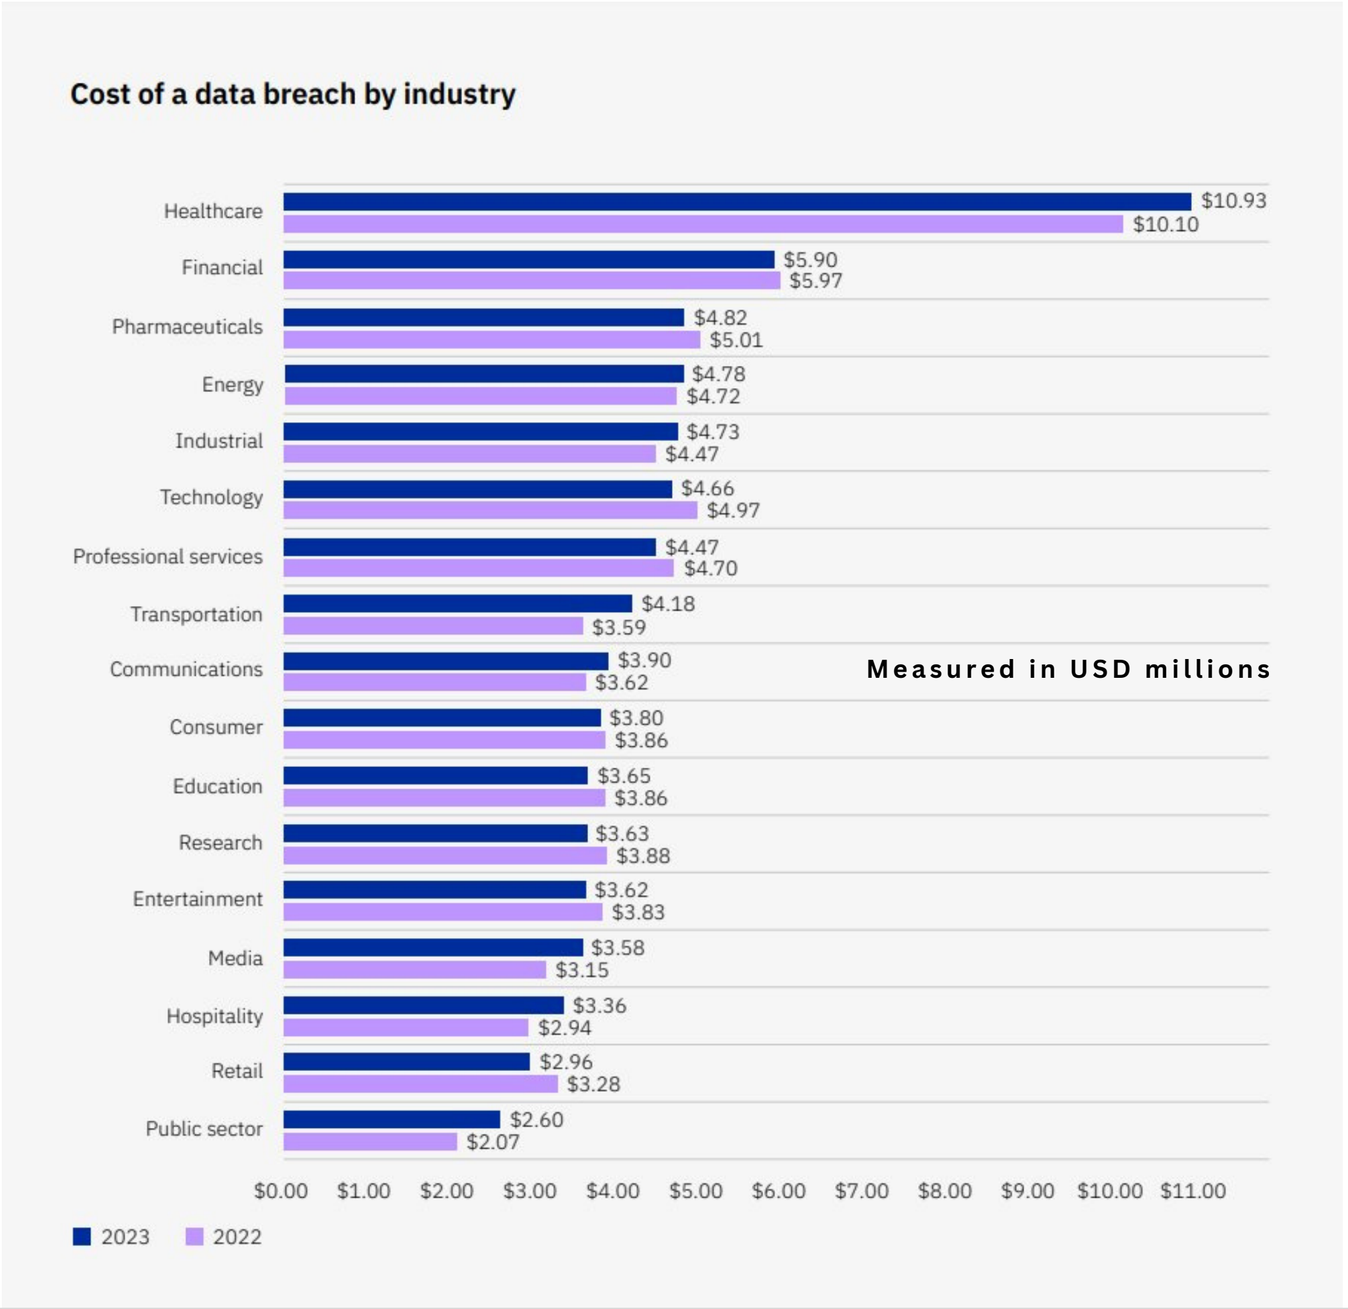
MORE THAN 90% OF GLOBAL DATA BREACHES ARE ATTRIBUTABLE TO THE HUMAN FACTOR AND ALL THOSE BREACHES ARE EXPENSIVE



Data from multiple resources (including IBM Security Report 2023)

PROBLEM

Human Factor Underestimated

Almost all companies invest exorbitant amounts in cybersecurity, focusing on certifications and monitoring of hardware, software and networks, underestimating the human factor even though they are aware of this data.

It's a structural problem.

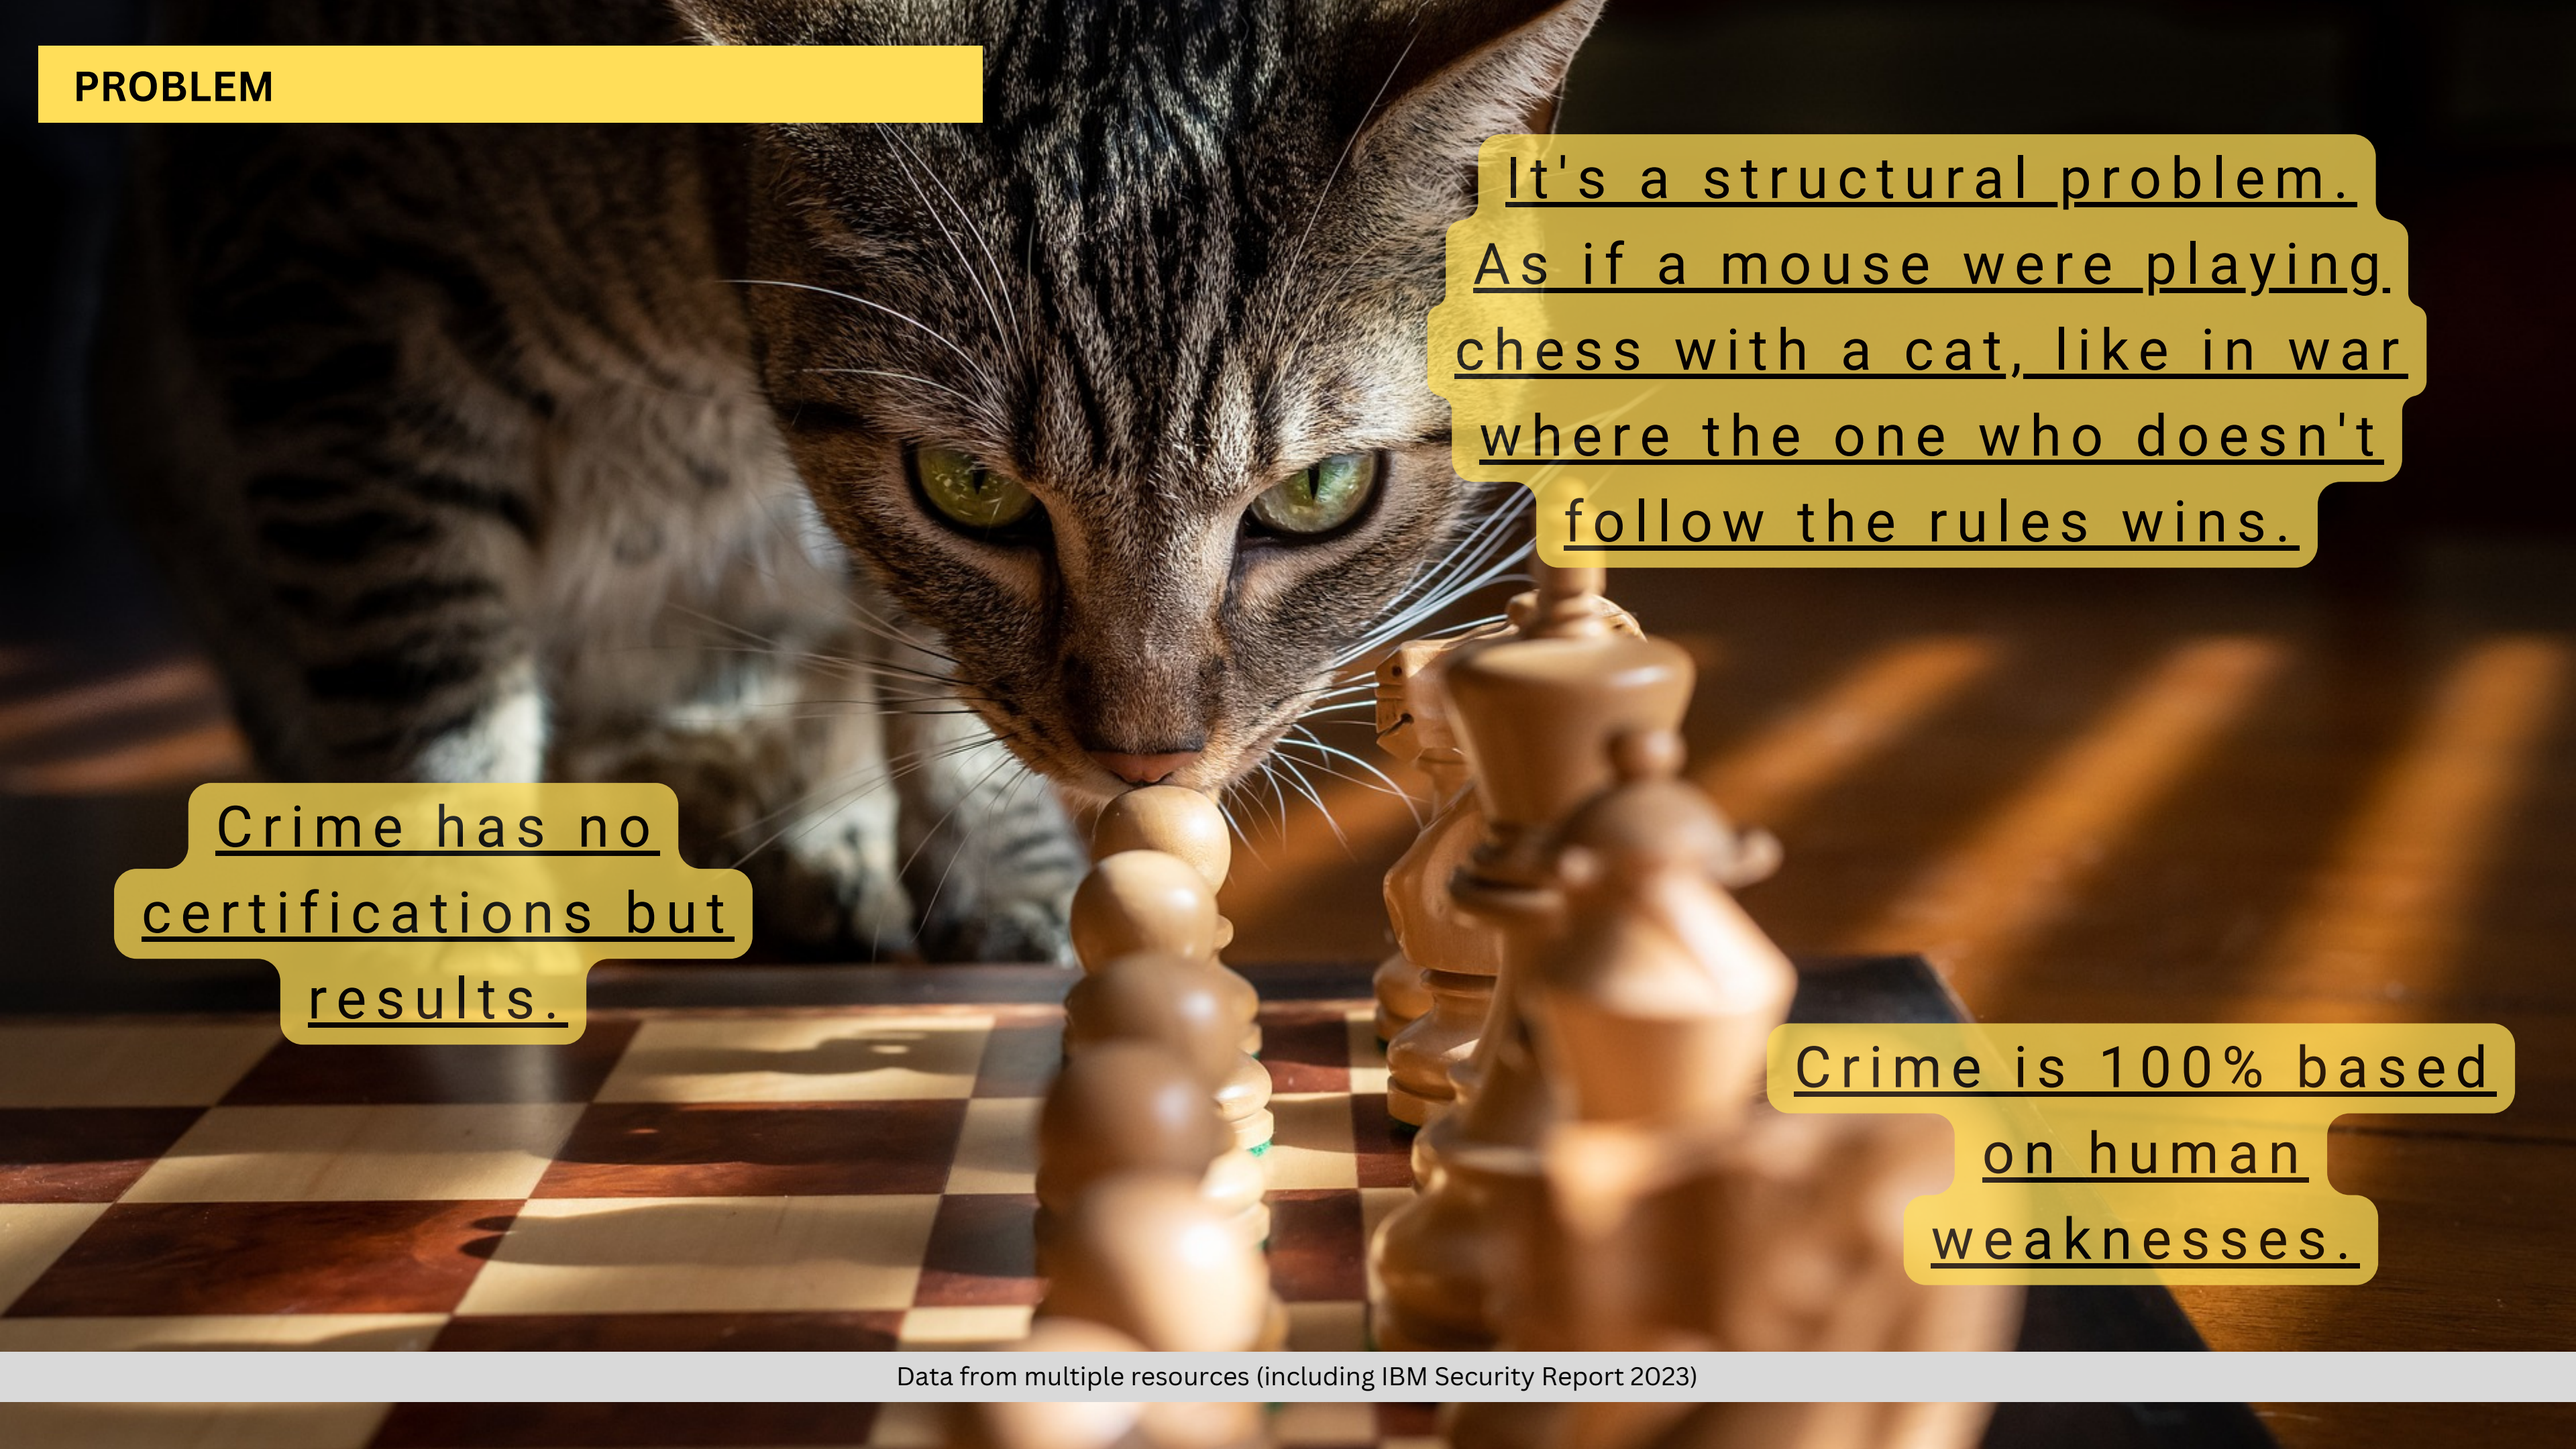
PROBLEM



It's a structural problem. As if a mouse were playing chess with a cat, like in war where the one who doesn't follow the rules wins.

Crime has no certifications but results.

Crime is 100% based on human weaknesses.
